DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 72 recites the limitation "first and second bulk" on line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Objection To Claims

Claim 72 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Claim 72 depends on subsequent claim 75, which in turn depends on previous claim 69.

Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 2819

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 37-43 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 7,012,555. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because their limitations are already claimed in the patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claim 78 is rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(b) as being anticipated by Eck et al (US 2003/0011464).

Regarding this claim, Eck et al teach in figure (6) a potentiometer circuit comprising: a first reference terminal V_{ss} , and a second reference terminal V_{ss} , and a plurality of impedance devices (402a), (402b) between the first and second reference terminals, and two structures (406a), (406b), each structure comprising a permanently-on switch in parallel with one of the impedance devices.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 79-82 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eck et al (US 2003/0011464) in view of Brunolli et al (US 2001/0038351).

Regarding these claims, Eck et al teach the essential features of the claimed invention as set forth above except for the limitation of the switches bypassing the impedance devices. However, the use of switches to bypass circuit components is well known in the art, as evidenced by Brunolli et al. Brunolli et al teach in figure (3) a digitally switched impedance circuit including a plurality of impedance devices, wherein the switching devices bypass as needed one or more of the impedance devices (Also See figure 4). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of Eck et al and Brunolli et al to improve system performance and reliability because that would provide improved linearity and reduced settling times when impedance values are switched (See [0010], lines 5-6).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 44-68 and 83-85 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 69-77 and 86-122 are allowable.
